ABSTRACT: 2

1. Since 1951 Bergmann-Borsig has been working on an order for delivery of 39 compressors of three types. One of the types is a twin-compressor. Only approximately two-thirds of the order had been filled as of the middle of 1953. Originally the order was issued as a reparations order, but in 1953 it was rewritten as an export order handled via DIA to cover the amount not yet delivered.
2. The acceptance engineer who comes to Bergmann-Borsig to check and accept the finished compressors for this order is Kovalyov (fnu), a Russian, ostensibly from the Soviet Trade Delegation on Brunnenstrasse. He is in his mid-40's; about 180 centimeters tall; heavy build; brown hair; always wears civilian carb.
